In re:

Request to Revoke Section 179 Election

Tax Year:

Dear

This letter is in response to your letter dated May 3, 2004, to the Commissioner of Internal Revenue, requesting permission to revoke the election made under section 179 of the Internal Revenue Code on your federal income tax return for certain property placed in service in . In order for us to respond to your specific request, you must submit a request for a private letter ruling. The request must comply with all the requirements of section 7 of Revenue Procedure 2004-1, 2004-1 I.R.B. 1. A copy of selected selections of Rev. Proc. 2004-1 has been enclosed for your reference. We hope that you find the following general information to be helpful.

We are enclosing a copy of section 179 of the Code and the regulations under that section. You may find section 179(c)(2) of particular interest. Under section 179(c)(2), an election made under section 179 (with respect to a taxable year beginning in 2002), and any specification contained in any such election, may not be revoked except with the consent of the Commissioner. Such consent to revoke an election under section 179, however, will be granted only in extraordinary circumstances (Emphasis added). See section 1.179-5(b) of the Income Tax Regulations.

Rev. Proc. 2004-1 provides the general procedures the Internal Revenue Service follows in issuing private letter rulings and the related instructions for the submission of private letter ruling requests by taxpayers. In addition, taxpayers are required by statute to pay user fees for requests for private letter rulings. Under section 15 of Rev. Proc. 2004-1, the user fee must accompany the request in order to be processed by the Service. In general, the user fee is $6,000 for private letter rulings. However, there is a reduced fee of $500 for a request involving a business-related tax issue from a taxpayer with a gross income of less than $1 million. See Appendix A of Rev. Proc. 2004-1.

If you should decide to request a private letter ruling, section 7.03 of Rev. Proc. 2004-1 provides information as to where to send the request. Also, as we have noted above, section 7 of Rev. Proc. 2004-1 provides general instructions for requesting a private letter ruling.

This letter has called your attention to certain principles of tax law. It is intended for informational purposes only and does not constitute a ruling. See sections 2.01 and 2.04 of Rev. Proc. 2004-1. We hope the materials enclosed will be helpful to you; however, if you should have any additional questions or comments, please contact our office at (202) 622-3110.

Sincerely yours,

Charles B. Ramsey
